

Christianity and Islam

Interfaith dialogue - a threat to the integrity of one's own faith or an opportunity to deepen it? Who is my neighbour? Are Muslim communities really as tight-knit as they appear to us? The early Franciscan friars were encouraged to live among Muslims as a witness to their faith, after the example of St. Francis. In this franciscan our contributors offer insights from their experiences of interfaith dialogue and some of the wider cultural issues relating to it.
