

Chaplaincies

Chaplaincies may well be compared to a little leaven in some large lumps - a lot depending on opportunity and response. And in these days of multiple faiths inevitably there are restraints and courtesies to be observed. But Christ works through the presence of the chaplain and needs, some- times oddly presented, are there to be grasped. It can be a rewarding or a daunting ministry requiring patience, perception and a sense of humour.